Today urban areas — ranging from Times Square to a small town in India — cover 3 to 5% of global land.

The urban population in 2014 accounted for 54% of the total global population, up from 34% in 1960, and continues to grow.

In 1800 only 2% of the world's population lived in urban areas.

It is estimated that between now and 2030, urban areas will expand by more than 463,000 sq. mi. (1.2 million sq. km).

20,000

That's equal to 20,000 U.S. football fields being paved over every day for the first few decades of this century.

By then, nearly 10% of the planet's land cover could be urban.

2050

64.1% to 85.9%

By 2050 it is predicted that 64.1% and 85.9% of the developing and developed world respectively will be urbanized.
