Essay Competition

Date: 28-02-2019

Time: 2.30 P.M

Essay writing is a very sensitive form of self-expression. It is a harmonious blending of 'thoughts' and 'expression'. On the occasion of Science Day, department of Computer Science organizes an Essay competition on "Save Environment" for all the students of B.C.A department to give an awareness about environment. Environment protection is a global issue that involves everyone's attention. Saving our environment is vital for sustaining humanity because, without an environment, none of us will survive.

Students of Bachelor of Computer Application actively participated in essay competition and share their knowledge about saving an Environment. Total 40 students participated in this competition, out of these 3 students were awarded.
