Thanking for the Compliment

This is an ice-breaking classroom activity, which can boost the confidence and encourage students to complement and highlight positive qualities about each other's.

The students are asked to take a sheet of paper and write their names on it and pass it to other students in the class and ask every student to think of a compliment and positive qualities to write for their friends. When the whole class is done with it, ask them to read it aloud.

It helps to identify their good qualities which attracted others attention and help them to enhance them.
